

FINANCIAL PRODUCTS

AEGIS financial products help members manage and retain risk more efficiently. Policies are developed jointly with the member and the broker, often with the input of other tax, accounting or insurance specialists. A flexible approach allows us to develop unique products for each AEGIS member while brainstorming solutions to issues that affect the entire AEGIS membership.

Loss financing needs may be addressed in a variety of ways, including post loss funding contracts. When market pricing is unfavorable, or when coverage is not available at any price, a contingent capital contract is a ready source of funds to finance retained losses.

Risks that are traditionally difficult to insure or are subject to wide pricing swings are often better managed using AEGIS financial products. Difficult-to-insure perils such as monoline windstorms, floods and earthquakes may be included in a product customized to cover your specific risks.

In addition, our unplanned generation outage policy, Power Shield, provides energy price protection in the event of power generation outage or electricity commodity price spikes.
