

New Online Excess Liability Policy Application

What's new about it?

- 100% web-based so it's faster and easier to complete. Enter and save data directly and securely to the AEGIS website. No more PDFs.
- Clean, simple, easy-to-follow screens and navigation.
- Streamlined and intuitive four-step workflow:
  - 1. Interview
  - 2. Details
  - 3. Review
  - 4. Submit
- Easy collaboration among risk managers, brokers and their teams. Shared access to all parties can be granted and several people can work on the same application at the same time (just not on the same sub-section).
- Dedicated member services staff in the Underwriting Division are available to help with any questions about the application content or system. Click "Help", e-mail portalsupport@aegislimited.com or call 866.MYAEGIS (866.692.3447).
- Attachments are saved directly to the AEGIS website.

What types of coverage will use the new online application?

Excess Liability and Workers' Compensation.

When will the new version of the online application be available for renewals?

Shortly after the Policyholders' Conference for policies with an effective date of January 1, 2011 or later.

Is the information from the previous application available in the new policy application?

Yes. The new application will be pre-filled with information submitted in the previous application. There will also be access to previous attachments.

Has the content of the application changed?

There are only minor changes in terms of the actual information that's requested in the application. The major changes are to the online application system and process.

Is there a limit to the number, size or format of attachments?

Any number of files — up to 25 MB each — can be attached. Most formats are accepted including doc, xls, ppt, pdf, jpg and zip files.

Can several people work on the online application at the same time?

Yes. Risk managers, brokers and their designated team members can work on the same application at the same time (just not on the same sub-section).

Is it necessary to download the application and then re-attach it to the AEGIS website when it's complete?

No. The new online application is 100% web-based. Data is saved directly and securely on the AEGIS website.

What about cyber security?

Data is even more secure because it's entered and stored in one place on the AEGIS website. Applications are not e-mailed among companies and stored in multiple places.

Is it necessary to complete every field in every section of the online application?

No. A new feature allows users to proceed past questions that may not be applicable and mark the section complete.

Is training for the new online application available?

Yes. Step-by-step webinars will be conducted monthly beginning in September, 2010.
