Dear AEGIS Members and Brokers,

The AEGIS Claims Roundtable program, now in its 31st year, reflects our commitment to providing members with superior claims-related services. Today, we are pleased to report that with your support and involvement, more than 1,400 representatives of more than 100 member companies have participated in the roundtables.

The AEGIS Claims Roundtables are a one-of-a-kind program focusing exclusively on the education and preparedness of attorneys, claims and loss control professionals, and risk managers in the energy industry. The roundtable faculty members are highly experienced in the management and direction of complex claims and litigation issues. They are chosen from a select pool of recognized industry claims managers, expert attorneys and consultants. The roundtable content embraces a variety of issues of concern to AEGIS member companies, and the format encourages creativity and participation while enhancing the understanding of the fundamentals of claims and litigation management.

The AEGIS Claims Roundtable program is one of the many Claims Division contributions to the AEGIS mission to provide members with consistently superior insurance and risk management products and services, enabling them to achieve the lowest overall long-term cost of risk. By sharing this type of information, and building upon our collective energy industry expertise, we are better able to manage risk together, which is one of the hallmarks of our mutual relationship.

For those unable to travel to East Rutherford, we hope you can join us via webinar. Details are below. Continuing Legal Education (CLE) credits will continue to be offered. AEGIS will request CLE accreditation from states with mandatory continuing legal education requirements.

Participating via Webinar

If you would like to participate via webinar, please indicate your preference for the webinar when you register. One week prior to the roundtable, registered participants will receive sign-on instructions. If you have any questions in the meantime, please contact Tatiana Leon at 201.508.2836 or e-mail her at TatianaLeon@aegislimited.com.

Registration

Please take a moment to review the 2020 schedule as well as the registration information.

You may register at any time online on the AEGIS website or via mail, e-mail or fax using the registration form on the back of this brochure. If you wish to register by phone or have any questions, please contact Tatiana Leon at 201.508.2836.

We look forward to seeing you at the 2020 AEGIS Claims Roundtables, and hope you will take advantage of the webinar option if you are unable to join us in person.

Asbestos Claims: Managing and Defending Asbestos-Related Litigation

Thursday, March 26, 2020

1

Utility companies are frequently faced with claims and associated litigation arising from asbestos exposure. This program will address the current state of asbestos litigation around the country and will focus on providing the latest observations, insights and strategies for handling asbestos cases from leading practitioners engaged in asbestos litigation. Through the use of real-life cases, participants will gain insight and the critical information needed to ensure they are at the forefront of managing these claims successfully. The seminar will offer practical advice, techniques and potential solutions to the most troubling issues facing corporate management today as it seeks an economical and efficient resolution of these claims.

Major Gas and Electric Incidents

Thursday, June 4, 2020

2

Gas and electric incidents can have a negative impact on the finances and public image of a utility. The company may face scrutiny, criticism and financial loss whether or not it did, or failed to do, anything that contributed to the event. While accident investigators often trace triggering acts or omissions back to third parties, improperly trained independent contractors or victims themselves, the utility will be involved in the aftermath. Our panel of speakers will discuss managing incidents when they occur, implementing internal and external procedures to minimize risks, and dealing with resulting suits and liability issues.
